Islamiat For Students Farkhanda Noor Muhammad Pdf Download.Q: Files are missing when file in PyCurses It's been a while since I programmed in Python (about two years ago) and so I decided to start Python programming again with PyCurses and find a very, very frustrating problem. The thing is, I create a file, draw some stuff on it, and then get the (shortened) path of that file. If I open that file, it's fine, it's as I want it to be. But when I try to read the file contents (as a variable), the variable is empty. The file is created in this way: `new_file = curses.newwin(self.screen_width/3, 100, self.screen_height/2, self.screen_height/2)` `self.filename = get_file_name()` `new_file.addstr(0, 0, self.filename)` `new_file.refresh()` `curses.noecho()` `curses.echo()` `try: execfile(self.filename)` `except:` `new_file.addstr(self.screen_width/3, 0, "Error opening file")` `new_file.refresh()` `curses.noecho()` `curses.echo()` By the way, when I tried to use the `new_file.addstr(0, 0, self.filename)` alone instead of the `execfile()` line, everything worked fine (except that it didn't draw anything on the file). Now I use the `get_file_name()` function to get the full path of the file (when I open it with a browser, it's basically %s%.txt).

This is the function: `def get_file_name(): path = os.path.abspath(os.path.join(os.path.dirname(__file`
